Logline: A kid-driven campaign bringing the vision of real kids to life: elevating their voices and points of view as they describe the world they see today, and empowering them to make the change

5 KIDS

ALL GENDERS, ALL ETHNICITIES. Can play 8-15 years old. Real kids who are willing to speak on their personal experiences dealing with racism, social injustice and the actions they have taken to combat it. Must have a point of view on the cultural and political environment we are living in currently. Must be able to speak about their hopes and the action they are taking and plan to take to create the world they hope to live in. Experience creating visual or performance art of any kind related to social justice a plus.

We are committed to diverse, inclusive casting. Please submit qualified performers, without regard to disability, race, age, national origin, ethnic origin or any other protected grounds under applicable law.
